

GENESIS

The pressing demand for women's education in South Calcutta led the authorities of Asutosh College to open the Women's Section in July, 1932. On completion of its 25* year of existence, it was felt that this section of the College should be run as a separate Women's College, with a separate establishment of its own. In 1957 the College was separated from the Men's College and affiliated to Calcutta University as Asutosh College for Women (1958), subsequently renamed Jogamaya Devi College, in the hallowed memory of Lady Asutosh Mukherjee, wife of Sir Asutosh Mukherjee and mother of Shyama Prasad Mukherjee.

OBJECTIVES

The guiding principle of the College is "Empowerment of Women with Education". We believe that educating one girl amounts to educating a whole family. Our aim is to disseminate education through students and transform our society into a cohesive, prosperous and mutually beneficial one. Our students are encouraged to work constructively. The nearly 80-year old history of this College and its innumerable alumni who have achieved distinction in diverse fields bears testimony to the fact that our students have contributed generously to the betterment of not only our society but also of the wider world. The college encourages students to establish themselves in any station of life and work with confidence, independence and dedication.

GLIMPSES OF THE PAST

A few words about the College

Jogamaya Devi College has come a long way since its inception in 1932. Dr. Shyamaprasad Mukhopadhyay founded this Girls College taking advantage of and utilising the space available in Asutosh College, in the morning hours. It started with 155 students for the I.A. Course in 1932. The first Principal was Sri Panchanan Sinha and the Vice-Principal Sri Kalidas Sen. The College had the honour to have Smt. Lila Majumdar as its first Professor. Many renowned personalities like Sri Satyendra Nath Sen, Sri Shibnath Chakraborty and Sri Nirod Kumar Bhattacharya have taught here in the early days of the College. The girls' section started expanding after 1935. It is a matter of pride that six students out of the first ten in the I.A. Exam, in 1946 were students of the morning section of Asutosh College: Smt Gouri Sen stood first in the Exam. She became the Principal of Lady Brabourne College and DPI of West Bengal later on. The girls' section initially known as Asutosh College for Women in 1956-57, was renamed as Jogamaya Devi College after the demise of Lady Jogamaya Devi, wife of Sri Asutosh Mukhopadhyay. It was the first Girls' College in West Bengal to start the Geology Honours course in 1956 along in its fold a few other science Departments, from the beginning. It also opened the NCC Training course during the same period under the Leadership of Sri Jyotish Chandra Banerjee, the then Principal of the College. Smt Arundhati Sen, the next Principal of the College, started the Zoology Honours course and it was Dr. Subrata Gupta who introduced the Botany Honours, Statistics General, Sociology General, B.Com General, Communicative English Major and the Computer Training Centre. Smt Gargi Nath, the present Principal of the College, has started the B.Com Honours, Psychology Honours and Sociology Honours courses. She has taken initiative to open P. G. Study Centre in collaboration with Vidyasagar University.

The College has built separate unit, the new building, to accommodate the students enrolled for the new subjects.

COMMUNICATIVE/FUNCTIONAL ENGLISH (MAJOR)

Proficiency in English is acknowledged to be an essential requirement in a multilingual nation like India for communication at national as well as international levels. The present system of higher education, however, does not fully equip the advanced student for entry into the job market after securing the B.A. degree.

In essence, science is a perceptual search for an intelligent and integrated comprehension of the world we live in.

- Cornelius Van Weil

In this context the UGC has introduced Communicative English Major in Select Colleges at degree level. The course is oriented towards acquisition of English language skills, both written and oral which enables the learner to function effectively in the real world. Along with language learning, the course also has a practical element of "on the job training" hopefully which, will prepare the learner to be absorbed into the job market. The course is offered to a limited number of students and concentrates on individual needs and abilities. It is an intensive course of three years' duration (of 800 marks). On completion the student will be awarded a B.A. Degree with a Major in Communicative English.

This Vocational Course has been introduced in Jogamaya Devi College. Students willing to join this course will have to take Communicative English as a Major subject along with English (General) and Political Science (General). The additional course fee for above vocational course is Rs. 2,400/- per year, to be paid in July and January, in two installments.

A student willing to take Communicative English and English as an Elective subject must have secured more than 45 per cent marks in aggregate in the last H.S. or Equivalent Examination and 50% in English.
